Once there was a man travelling in a faraway village. As he was passing the elephants, he suddenly 31. He found that these huge elephants were being held by only a small 32 tied to their front legs. No chain, no cages. It was 33 that the elephant could, at any time, 34 from their ropes but for some reason, they did not.

He saw a trainer nearby and asked 35 these animals just stood there and didn't try to get away. "Well," the trainer said, "when they are very young and much 36, we use the same size rope to tie them and, at that age, it's enough to hold them. As they grow up, they still believe the rope can hold them, so they 37 try to break free.

How 38 it be? Because they were always stuck right where they were, they believed they couldn't.

Just like the elephants, how many of us go 39 life believing that we cannot do something, just because we failed in it 40 before?

America is a "mobile" society. Friendships between Americans can be close and real, but they can also 41 soon. They don't feel hurt. If the same two people meet again, even years later, they "pick up" the friendship. This can be quite 42 for us Chinese to understand. Friendships between two Chinese people may develop 43 but can last forever, even extending deeply into both families.

There is another difficult point for us to understand. Although Americans treat friends warmly in their daily lives, they don't show their politeness to them 44 it requires much time. But in China, we are usually generous(慷慨的) with our time. We, 45 hosts, can appear at an airport to meet a friend even at midnight. And we may take days 46 from our work to act as the guides of our friends. However, Americans cannot manage the time to stay with somebody outside their everyday plans. They will probably expect the visitors to get 47 from the airport to the hotels. And they expect the visitors will call them there. But once the visitors arrive at their houses, a warm and real 48 will be given to them. It can be in the form of a hug, a kiss or something else.

For Americans, it is often 49 to be friendlier to invite a friend to their homes than to restaurants, except for business matters. Americans are ready to serve visitors at home, and 50 their joy with the visitors as well. So accept their hospitality(好客) at home and enjoy yourselves in America.

At five he was collecting old newspapers to make money. And when he was 15 he signed his schoolmates up to start a baby-sitting circle.

Now 20, third-year Cambridge University student, Peter Blackburn is a manager of a company with a £30,000 plan. And he thinks it will make more than £15,000 by next summer. Last year he set up Peter Blackburn Company to bring out a new, colour term-planner that now students all over the UK are using.

"I felt that most of the planners going around were pretty unimaginative." he says, "I believe that I could do a better job and decided to have a go."

Blackburn says that he is putting far more effort into business than his computer studies course at university. While fellow students are out with their friends, he keeps in touch with his business office in Lancashire by phone. Before he set up the company, he spent one holiday preparing a plan that would persuade his bank to lend him money.

"Most students work hard for a good degree because they believe that will help them get a job to support themselves." he says, "I work hard at my company, because that is what will support me next year, after I leave college." Friends believe that Blackburn will make £1 million within 5 years. He is not quite so sure, however, "There's a lot to be done yet." he says.

(C)

I made a decision on the way down to the vacation beach cottage. For two weeks I would try to be a loving husband and father. Totally loving. No ifs, ands or buts.

The idea had come to me as I listened to a talk on my car radio. The speaker was reading a Biblical passage about husbands being thoughtful of their wives. Then he went on to say, "Love is an act of will. A person can choose to love." To myself, I had to say that I had been a selfish husband. Well, for two weeks that would change.

And it did. Right from the moment I kissed Mary at the door and said, "That new yellow sweater looks great on you."

"Oh, Tom, you noticed," she said, surprised and pleased. Maybe a little confused.

After the long drive, I wanted to sit and read. Mary suggested a walk. I started to refuse, but then I thought, "Mary's been alone here with the kids all week and now she wants to be alone with me." We walked on the beach while the kids flew their kites.

So it went. Two weeks of not calling the company where I am a manager; a visit to the shell museum though I usually hate museums. Relaxed and happy, that's how the whole vacation passed. I made a new decision to keep on remembering to choose love.

There was one thing that went wrong with my experiment, however. Mary and I still laugh about it today. On the last night at our cottage, preparing for bed, Mary looked at me with saddest expression.

"What's the matter?" I asked her.

"Tom," she said in a low voice filled with sadness, "do you know something I don't?"

"What do you mean?"

It took a moment for it all to sink in. Then I couldn't help laughing. "No, honey." I said, holding her in my arms, "You're not dying; I'm just starting to live."

VIII. 书面表达

Do you often use a cellphone? Do you know how we should use it properly in public?

I think we should keep our voice down when we make a phone call in public. Shouting on the phone may make others feel uncomfortable. When we get together, stop playing games or using Wechat, and try to communicate with others. Don't make or answer a call while driving. It's not only very dangerous but also against the law.

各档次的给分范围和要求:

第三档:(8~10 分)能写明全部或大部分内容要点;语言基本无误;行文连贯,表达清楚。

第二档:(5~7 分)能写明大部分内容要点;语言有一些错误,但尚能达意。

第一档:(0~4 分)只能写出与所要求内容有关的一些单词或词组;语言错误较多,只有个别句子可读。
